

ELEVATING YOUR PERSONAL IMAGE

Personal Branding is how a person presents themselves to the world, demonstrating who they are, what they can accomplish, and how they are unique from others.

Developing and demonstrating an intentional personal brand identity will create a more positive reputation, foster better and lasting impressions, and may bolster the influence you have upon others.

Participants in this highly interactive course will begin by studying human psychology, their own biases, and how others perceive them. Building upon this foundation, participants will then identify the skills, characteristics, and abilities that make them unique. The program will combine all of these facets of one's persona, showing how a personal brand is made and utilized.
